

Bijzondere bepalingen Rusland en Belarus (Wit-Rusland)

- In the present-day situation, publishing papers with co-authors from Russian and Belarusian institutes is permitted, providing the origins of the data are clearly and unambiguously stated and the results of the papers are fully reproducible and accessible.
- Russian employees may be appointed (if they are not affiliated with a Russian organisation). At least three months before their contract is due to start, you should contact the HR advisor in order to prevent any unpleasant surprises.
- Formal collaborations with Russian or Belarusian organisations are not permitted, but individual contacts with academics in those countries are.
- Bear in mind that the situation may change rapidly, so it is important to remain aware of developments.

Also see Sanctions Rusland and Sanctions Belarus (both only available in Dutch)