

In January 2018, the VU signed the declaration of intent of the UN Convention for the improvement of the facilities of students who study with a (functional) disability. This is in line with the ambitions of the VU to be an inclusive educational institution. It all starts with awareness in order to be able to apply the policy that has been made in practice. Teachers also play a major role in this. For example, teachers can offer an alternative work or test form for a student with a disability. Do you have questions about studying with a disability? Please contact the FSW academic advisors.
