

KIN Summer School 2022

Knowledge, Information, and Innovation Research

Organised by	KIN Center for Digital Innovation and Amsterdam Business Research Institute (ABRI)
Target group	Doctoral and post-doctoral students, and pre-tenure faculty The selection of participants will be based on the fit with the themes of the summer school.
Period	July 3 – July 6, 2022
ECTS	3 ECTS
Tuition	€400
Venue	Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
Application deadline	1 April 2022
Registration	Register for the KIN Summer School 2022 by filling in the registration form. Please attach a summary of a maximum of 2 pages including a biographical sketch and a summary of research work in progress that will be discussed and developed during the course. The KIN Summer School is characterized by highly intense interactions among the participants, therefore, we can accept a maximum of 20 applications. Please note that the course is designed for late-year doctoral students, postdoc researchers, and young faculty members.
Contact persons	Content inquiries: Marleen Huysman (m.h.huysman@vu.nl) Practical inquiries: Damla Diriker (d.diriker@vu.nl)
Website	https://vu.nl/en/education/phd-courses/kin-summer-school-2022

Welcome to the KIN Summer School 2022

Building on the successes of the previous nine editions, the KIN Summer School 2022 is designed to help doctoral and post-doctoral students, pre-tenure faculty, and early career researchers to develop the insights and skills in theory development and methodologies within this multi-disciplinary field of knowledge, information, and innovation (KIN). The purpose is to expand academic skills to conduct and publish valuable research.

After this workshop, participants will:

- Be familiar with the research literature on the latest development related to knowledge, information technology, and innovation in organizational contexts,
- Have the capacity to combine, integrate, and critically discuss the various perspectives and research methods and apply these to the analysis of current organizational challenges,
- Have insights into the relevance of the literature discussed in this course on their own research projects,
- Have a sense of what makes top-quality research in this area.

Faculty

Hans Berends	Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, The Netherlands
Samer Faraj	McGill University, Canada
Marleen Huysman	Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, The Netherlands
Lucas Introna	Lancaster University Management School, UK
Ann Majchrzak	University of Southern California - Marshall School of Business, USA
Eric Monteiro	Norwegian University of Technology and Science, Norway

Format

Internationally recognized faculty members in information technology, innovation, and organizations will discuss the recent theoretical and methodological advances and will provide insights into their own research projects. This will allow participants to gain further understanding of theoretical underpinnings and recent empirical applications.

Participants will engage in intensive sessions with faculty, where they not only actively engage in discussions related to the insights offered by the faculty but also receive feedback on their own research. The format of the course provides ample opportunity to discuss participants' own work in progress.

Programme and topics

DATE	TIME & ROOM	TOPIC	SPEAKER
Sunday July 3	10:00 – 13:00 Room: TBD	Introduction & AI and knowledge work	Marleen Huysman KIN Research, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
	14:00 – 17:00 Room: TBD	New perspectives on work	Samer Faraj McGill University, Canada
	17:00	Boat trip and dinner
Monday July 4	10:00 – 13:00 Room: TBD	Performativity and sociomateriality	Lucas Introna Lancaster University Management School, UK
	14:00 – 17:00 Room: TBD	What, if any, is new with digitalization? The case of digital oil	Eric Monteiro Norwegian University of Technology and Science, Norway
	17:00	Drinks
Tuesday July 5	10:00 – 13:00 Room: TBD	Group paper discussions	All faculty
	14:00 – 17:00 Room: TBD	Opening up the black box of technology	Ann Majchrzak University of Southern California - Marshall School of Business, USA
	17:00	Drinks
Wednesday July 6	9:30– 12:30 Room: TBD	Process Research Methods	Hans Berends KIN Research, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
	12:30	Closing: time to travel to EGOS

Preparation

In order to prepare, the workshop requires prior reading. All the papers will be discussed interactively and in order to engage in the discussion, it is important that the selected applicants have read all the compulsory reading material before the course starts.

Compulsory readings

Marleen Huysman: AI and knowledge work (Sunday, July 3)

- Waardenburg, L., Huysman, M., & Sergeeva, A. (2021) In the Land of the Blind, the One-Eyed Man Is King: Knowledge Brokerage in the Age of Learning Algorithms. Organization Science, 33(1).
- van den Broek, E., Sergeeva, A., & Huysman, M. (2021). When The Machine Meets The Expert: An Ethnography Of Developing Ai For Hiring. MIS Quarterly, 45(3).
- Pachidi, S., Berends, H., Faraj, S., & Huysman, M. (2019). Symbolic Actions During The Introduction Of A New Technology: The Ironic Change Of A Regime Of Knowing. Organization Science, 32(1).

Samer Faraj: New perspectives on work (Sunday, July 3)

Readings to be determined.

Lucas Introna: Performativity and sociomateriality (Monday, July 4)

Readings to be determined.

Eric Monteiro: What, if any, is new with digitalization? The case of digital oil (Tuesday, July 5)

Readings to be determined.

Ann Majchrzak: Opening up the black box of technology (Tuesday, July 5)

Readings to be determined.

Hans Berends: Process Research Methods (Wednesday, July 6)

- Langley, A. (1999). Strategies for theorizing from process data. Academy of Management Review, 24(4).
- Deken, F., Berends, H., Gemser, G., & Lauche, K. (2018). Strategizing and the initiation of interorganizational collaboration through prospective resourcing. Academy of Management Journal, 61(5).
- Berends, H., & Deken, F. (2019). Composing qualitative process research. Strategic Organization, 19(4).

ECTS Credits

Every student attending the workshop will receive 3 ECTS. Those students who want to receive 5 ECTS are required to hand in a paper within two months after completion of the Summer School in which a selection of the literature discussed during the course is applied to the research project of the participant. The paper should have about 5000 words and at least half of the reading list should be used. Papers will be reviewed by the faculty, where manuscripts graded as 'sufficient' result in 5 ECTS.

Fees and Expenses

The participation fee is EUR 400 and includes catering during the workshop and the social events. All participants will be responsible for their own travel and accommodation arrangements and associated costs. Selected candidates will receive more information regarding the appropriate accommodation arrangements and may also contact Mariana Stori with further questions. Upon admittance to the seminar, an invoice will be sent to your academic institution.

Contact details

For further information please contact Marleen or Damla or visit ABRI's website for the KIN Summer School 2022. The website will continuously be updated with developments in the programme as well as other information.

Content inquiries

Marleen Huysman

Professor, KIN Center of Digital Innovation

m.h.huysman@vu.nl

Practical inquiries

Damla Diriker

ABRI Programme Assistant

d.diriker@vu.nl